INTRODUCTION

The Bermuda National Bibliography records the publishing activity of Bermuda and provides a reflection of the social, economic and cultural endeavours of this country. The bulk of these materials are obtained through Legal Deposit which allows us to maintain a permanent record of an important aspect of the Island's cultural heritage.

Legal Deposit in Bermuda

The first Legal Deposit legislation in Bermuda was The Printed Publication Act, 1971, which only covered print materials. This Act was amended by The Legal Deposit Act, 2008 which greatly broadened the scope covered.

The Legal Deposit Act, 2008, which repeals Section 5 of the Printed Publications Act 1971, sets out the requirements regarding the deposit of new Bermuda publications in the Bermuda National Library. A small section is reproduced below:

"Delivery of copies of publications

- 3 (1) This section applies to—
- (a) a person who publishes a publication in Bermuda; and
  - (b) a person who is resident in Bermuda, or whose principal place of business is in Bermuda, and who publishes, or commissions the publishing of, a publication outside Bermuda for distribution or making available in Bermuda.
- (2) Subject to subsection (5), every person who publishes a publication shall within seven days after the date of publishing it deliver a copy of the publication, at their own expense, to the Head Librarian for deposit in the Bermuda National Library.
- (3) The copy shall be delivered in the medium in which it is published, unless another medium is prescribed."

General Selection Criteria

Included are works about Bermuda and Bermudians, published both locally and abroad, works published in Bermuda on other subjects, and works published abroad by Bermudians. Emphasis is on items readily available through normal book suppliers or through the author or publisher. However, Bermuda has a small and unique publishing environment so unpublished and privately-printed titles are often deposited with the Bermuda National Library. These are included in the Bibliography.

Media Covered

The Bibliography covers monographs, periodical publications, published and unpublished Government and other reports, audio-visual materials, and items in other formats when applicable. Some theses are included; particularly those covering subjects significant to Bermuda.

Many Bermuda Government documents are only made available online as PDFs. These and other electronic documents are not included in the Bermuda National Bibliography but they are collected by the Bermuda National Library whenever possible. Some Government Departments print out their documents specifically for deposit at the Bermuda National Library. These printed copies are catalogued and included in the Bibliography.

Fiction published outside Bermuda with a Bermuda setting is not usually included unless the author has a local connection. These items may form a part of the general circulation collection but are not considered to be a part of the Bermudiana Collection so do not appear in the Bibliography.

Posters, tourist and promotional fliers, event programmes and other ephemera are not usually included in the Bibliography even though representative examples of these kinds of publications may be collected by the Library.

Cataloguing Codes and Standards of Description

The list is arranged according to the 23rd edition of the Dewey Decimal Classification. New materials are catalogued according to the provisions of Resource Description & Access (RDA). Records for continuing publications originally created prior to 2014 follow the Anglo-American Cataloguing Rules, Second edition, 2002 revision (updated 2003-2005).

Subject headings are derived from an in-house format for local authority records which is based on the Sears List of Subject Headings and the LC Name Authority File.

Occasionally notes have been left out or abbreviated. Full bibliographic records (including MARC format) can be viewed in the online catalogue via the Bermuda National Library's website at www.bnl.bm.

Atlantic Crescent : building geographies of Black and Muslim liberation in the African diaspora / Alaina M. Morgan. – Chapel Hill : The University of North Carolina Press, [2025]

274 pages : illustrations, portraits ; 24 cm

Includes bibliographical references (pages 249-260) and index.

"In the period between the twentieth century's two world wars, Black and Muslim people from the United States, South Asia, and the Caribbean collided across an expansive diasporic geography. As these people and their ideas came into contact, they reignited the practice of Islam among people of African descent living in the United States and the Anglophone Caribbean and prompted them to adopt new understandings of their place in the world. As the freedom dreams of these diasporic communities met the realities and limitations of colonialism and race in the Atlantic world, Islam presented new strategies for combatting oppression and introduced new allies in the struggle. Envisioning the geography and significance of this encounter within what she calls the Atlantic Crescent, Alaina M. Morgan draws on an expansive archive to show how Black and Muslim people imagined, understood, and acted on their religious and racial identities. Morgan reveals how her subjects' overlapping diasporic encounters with Islam led to varied local adaptation as well as common ground to pursue liberation from racial subjugation and white supremacy"—Provided by publisher.

Anna / Bernette Forde. – [United Kingdom] : [Bernette Forde], 2025.

xiii, 320 pages ; 21 cm

"Set in nineteenth-century Bermuda, a notorious and horrific crime was committed. It was late on a Sunday night, on October 20th, 1878. The murder of a forty-one-year-old black woman named Anna Regina Skeeters (nee Evans). Anna, a local Somerset girl, had unfortunately suffered a horrible death. It was administered to her by her husband, Edward James Skeeters, a serial adulterer, who frequently enters into casual sexual relationships with other women. The sister of one of these women continuously taunted Anna, causing Anna to confront her husband. His reaction was to strike out at her in an unthinkable manner. This story is their story, based on their marriage, his philandering ways and ultimately, his diabolical crime. It was one of the most vicious murders ever perpetrated on the tiny Island."—Back cover.

Chesterfield / Bernette Forde. – [United Kingdom] : [Bernette Forde], [2026], ©2025.

516 pages ; 21 cm

"A Killing on Fritzwell Hill"—Cover.

"Chesterfield" is a gripping historical narrative, meticulously researched and set against the backdrop of Bermuda in 1913. This compelling work seamlessly intertwines the gripping elements of true crime, the complexities of legal history, and the profound impact of family tragedy. This book centres on the shocking murder of Chesterfield Paul, a highly respected Bermudian businessman whose violent and untimely death sends shockwaves through the island community. What initially appears to be a serene and idyllic environment soon reveals its darker undercurrents, as the investigation exposes the deeply ingrained social, racial, and class divisions that characterised early 20th-century colonial society. At the heart of this narrative lies the haunting tale of Chesterfield Paul, whose life and legacy become a lens through which the entrenched inequalities of the time are brought to light. The story not only delves into the circumstances surrounding his murder but also offers a poignant commentary on the societal tensions and struggles that defined Bermuda during this tumultuous era."—Back cover.

Margaret / Bernette Forde. – [United Kingdom] : [Bernette Forde], 2025.

xiii, 445 unnumbered pages ; 23 cm

"In July 1941, the murder of Margaret Stapleton, a British Censorette in Bermuda during World War II, shocked the local community. Miss Stapleton, a young woman tasked with monitoring foreign correspondence for suspicious activities, was last seen visiting friends at Bleak House. After declining an escort, she set off alone on her bicycle to catch a train home but never arrived. Concerned flatmates prompted a search, leading to the discovery of her brutally raped and beaten body near Prospect Railway Halt. The investigation quickly targeted Harry Sousa, a soldier already imprisoned for rape, who was found guilty of the crime and sentenced to hang. As the execution approached, Sousa made a mysterious escape but was recaptured the following day. The case highlighted the rare occurrence of such violence in Bermuda, forever marking the island's history with the tragedy of Margaret Stapleton's untimely death."—Amazon.com.

The Moon Mad Murderer / Bernette Forde. – [United Kingdom] : [Bernette Forde], 2025.

407 pages ; 23 cm

"Set in the idyllic paradise of Bermuda in the late 1950s, The Moon Mad Murderer recounts the true-crime saga that shattered the island's sense of safety. The story begins with the brutal assault of Florence Lillian Flood, which sends shockwaves through the close-knit community of Warwick Parish. As fear spreads, a series of increasingly savage murders follows, claiming the lives of Gertrude Robinson, Dorothy Pearce, and Dorothy Barbara Rawlinson. The crimes are characterised by their brutality, lack of clear motive, and the chilling realisation that a serial predator is at large. The book meticulously reconstructs the investigation, highlighting both the limitations of forensic science at the time and the intense pressure on local law enforcement. The narrative explores the emergence of Wendell Willis Lightbourne as a suspect, his eventual confession, and the controversial legal proceedings that follow—including the commutation of his death sentence."—Back cover.

Includes information relating to Bermuda (pages 180-189).

Includes bibliographical references (pages 231-253) and index.

"This book evaluates modern Caribbean politics through the soundscapes of Reggae and Dancehall. Born to Reggae in the 1970s, Dancehall is often framed by its lyrics of hyper masculinity. This has distorted its engagement with Reggae's innate politics, largely Rastafari's critique of the West as being of a Biblical Babylon. Both strains grappled with questions of a decolonizing and migrating Caribbean: hard times, concrete ecologies, and promised lands. But if Reggae's radical soundings of Black liberation repatriated East beyond Babylon's rivers, then to what extent did Dancehall imagine freedom amidst the contradictions of the gully sided West?"—Provided by publisher.

"It's ten years after the Queendom of Xelha's bloody Civil War. Arinko Xelha, a young and inexperienced ruler sits on the throne. Despite this, she champions her closeness with the people that lived through the war years with her, wanting nothing more than to see her nation succeed, despite having little political knowledge or acumen. Opposing her is Lord Sigurd Kolo, an elder statesman and master politician. His forces lost the war, but his influence is far reaching on the political scene in Xelha. Loud and cunning, he attempts to undermine the young leader as often as he can. However, there exists a saying in Xelha. Kuni Ruto, which means beware the quiet ones. Silence does not always mean compliance. One must always beware of silent contemplation. Yet Arinko is inexperienced in the wiles of politics, whilst Kolo is well versed. Will she be able to learn the ropes of politics and disprove her critics? Or will Kolo's prediction reverberate across the land as she falls from grace and loses everything?"—Back cover.
